THE PEAR FAMILY .- These talented vocalists performed at the Masonic Hall, on Thursday evening, to a large and highly respectable audience. For compass and sweetness of voice, we have heard few singers that selected and in good taste, and were received higher with much approbation by all present. The songs of little Fanny (only seven years old,) these singers meet with decided favor from the public, and are certain that such will continue to be the ease, wherever they go.

CELEBRATION AT STARKSBORO'. The Glorious Fourth was ushered in by a Na

The Glorious Fourth was ushered in by a Na-tional Salute of thirty gams, and the display of the "stars and stripes" from the flag staffs at sun-tise. At an early hour every street leading to the village was crowded with people pouring forth from their praceful homes like a mighty avalanch to join in celebrating the seventy-second anniver-sity of American Independence. The procession was formed at Taft's Hotel, at 11 o'clock, A. M., by the Chief Marshal and his assistants, which, esseted by the Green Mountain Band, proceeded to the dwelling of Warren Wentworth, Esq. to the dwelling of Warren Wentworth, Esq. lare assigned them in the line. From this point the procession moved to the beautiful grove at the orthern extremity of this village, where the excreises of the day were to take place.

"Hail Columbia" was admirably performed by the band, after which the Rev. Mr. Gregg adbressed the Throne of Grace with great eloquence At this stage of the proceedings, Miss Harriet

Wentworth, the fair representative of the Green Monnian State, presented to the officers a beau-tiful boquet, which was received by the orator of the day, who, turning to the assembly, said—Ladies and Gentlemen. I have the honor to receive from one of the ladies chosen to represent the States of our Union, in this celebration, this beautiful bequest presented for the purpose of be-ing placed on the others' table. And I take this occasion to present to that body the manimous and cordial thanks of the others of the day, and, I doubt not, of the assembled thousands before me, for this magnificent and truly appropriate gift. Much taste is displayed in the selection and artangement of the flowers, which are indeed beau tiful-bin fair as they are the lady is fairer than the flowers she has presented."

The bequet was placed upon the table amid the veliest demonstration of feeling.

Mr. L. L. Holcomb read the Magna Charta of in liberties, the Declaration of Independence, The oration was delivered by Julius P. Atwood plendid bower fitted for the occasion, and beauthe State ladies, invited guests, and all others that could obtain seats, sat down to the repast furnished by Messrs, Jewell and Holcomb.

It is due to those gentlemen to say that the su-perh collation provided by them was commended on the highest terms by those who feasted.

The physical man satisfied, the following toas were drank amid the shouts of the people and firmg of smillery.
